

ResourceGeo

Capability Statement

Land seismic project management, permitting, and regulatory approvals across Australia and New Zealand.

WHAT WE DO

ResourceGeo (Resource GeoSolutions (Australia) Pty Ltd) provides client-side planning, permitting and project management for land seismic exploration. Engagement runs from survey design through to field oversight and landholder close-out, aligning approvals, land access, environmental controls and contractor readiness so mobilisation happens only when the project is ready.

CORE SERVICES

- Permitting & regulatory strategy — approval pathway mapping, regulatory requirement identification, jurisdictional review
- Client-side project management — integrated scheduling, contractor coordination, risk and issue management
- Stakeholder & land access support — landholder engagement, access negotiation, cultural heritage coordination
- Compliance & risk control — HSEQ oversight, environmental obligations, auditable project records
- Seismic acquisition oversight — survey design input, mobilisation readiness review, field oversight
- Environmental monitoring & change detection — repeatable drone-based spatial analysis

WHY RESOURCEGEO

- Integrated Management System and a seismic-specific Project Management System applied to every project
- Consistent five-phase lifecycle: Initiate · Plan · Execute · Monitor & control · Close
- 25+ years of senior seismic project experience across Australia, New Zealand, Asia, Africa, Europe, the Middle East, the Pacific, and Central America
- Client-side project management, field supervision, and technical assurance throughout delivery
